ACG TRANSITIONS

ACG TRANSITIONS

ACG Transitions is run by ACG Care Ltd. ACG Transitions is a supported and training living scheme for young people from the age of 18 and above with Learning Disability, Mental health and Autism.

We pride ourselves on being specialists in providing training on life skills and independent living. Our team is fully dedicated to supporting our resident learners in becoming as independent as possible.

We have experience and expertise to support you for a few hours per day or if you require round the clock care and support. We aim to give you the choice, control and freedom you require in your daily life. Continuing to live independently at home is achievable as a result of the our flexible and individualized care and support that we provide.

The training given enables and encourages the residents to live a full and valued life and have access to the same opportunities as any citizen.

We offer residential, respite and a day service all including the innovative independent Life Skills Programme. As part of the Transition project, we offer in-house independent skills training and accredited training programmes tailored to each individual support and care needs.

OUR MISSION

We are passionate about empowering our residents to make their own informed choice. The service is aimed at equipping residents with essential skills that empower them to live independently as possible in the wider community with dignity.

SERVICES

TRANSITION HOMES

Francis House has 5 rooms that are decorated to a modern and easy living standard . We enable and encourage young people to live a full and valued life and to live independently as they are able to, learn new skills and work towards thier desired goals and achievements which will enable the learner to live a fuller, independent lifestyle based around thier own wishes, desires and objectives.

INDEPENDENT LIVING SKILLS

ACG Transitions support young adult to develop their independent living skills for a smooth transition towards adulthood. We work with different community organisations and services in supporting young adult with learning disability, mental health or autism.

TRANSITION ACADEMY

We take a completely rounded out approach to training. We know that learning about life skills is only half of the battle and that practicing these skills in person is so important for anyone wanting to be independent. The high quality training we provide is one reason why we stand out as independence accredited training that makes a difference.

We have invested in a completely equipped training room. Additionally, our staff has undertaken a special and extensive training to become independent Life Skills Programme Assessors, to ensure the best possible outcome for our learners.

COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION AND INCLUSION

At ACG, we understand the importance of having structured outdoor and indoor activities in our client day to day lives to enhance functional skills and also to reduce isolation. Our residents are supported to explore their hobbies and interests and this is incorporated in their support packages and reviewed every 6 months. We support service users to access the services in the community. We have close working relationships with Gym and Leisure centres, local supermarket, pharmacies etc.
